New Army garrison to

By EVON SAJKOVIC ANP Staff Writer

The never opened Brownstown Middle School will soon become the site for an army garrison.

The 5064th U.S. Army Garrison recently relocated to Romulus from the previous site on Sherwood Avenue in Detroit

The new Brownstown U.S. Army Reserve Center will serve as the administrative headquarters for reserve units located at Selfridge Air National Guard Base as well as bases in Detroit, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Battle Creek and Fort Wayne, IND. Also located in this facility will be elements of the 70th Division, responsible for training and the 5032nd U.S. Army Reserve Forces School.

The center, which is located on Inkster Road north of King Road in Brownstown Township, encloses 107,000 square feet and occupies 154 acres of land.

Originally the facility was designed as a middle school but was never opened due to budget appropriations not being approved. The building features a gymnasium, cafeteria, kitchen, gool, library, laboratories, offices, four tennis courts, nine classrooms and a 300-car parking

In order to celebrate its relocation, as well as help the community to get acquainted with the facility, the center will conduct an open house from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Sept. 17.

The open house will feature tours of the Reserve Center which will include equipment, weapon and uniform displays, a Special Forces display, and a presentation by the 70th Division

This is all in an effort to dispell some of the rumors that have spread about the center.

School officials explain bonds

By EVON SAJKOVIC ANP Staff Writer

Romulus voters will be confronted with a bond issue as well as another school millage this November.

Romulus school board members voted and approved an $18 million bond issue be put on the ballot with the proposed millage in the August balloting.

Although the millage would necessitate an increase in taxes Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell said that the $18 million bond will not increase taxes because the proposals call for the transfer of funds from the debt fund to the general fund.

"When voters pay taxes a portion goes into the debt fund and a portion goes into the general fund, what the bond will call for is a transfer from the debt fund to the general fund," said Pat Patterson, school board vice president.

The money is already there (in the debt fund) because it was placed there by the voters and now we need their permission to transfer it to the general fund," said Bedell. Bedell surmised that the bond being on the same ballot as the millage may diminish chances of voter approval as voters might associate the transfer with a tax increase.

The ballot language creates a lot of confusion among voters," Patterson said.

The bond issue will allow the district to supply the elementary school with computers and will help finance a swimming pool at Romulus Senior High School.

"I think it's a good idea (the bond issue) because it will allow us to obtain tools essential to our field," said Kenneth Berlinn, board of education president.

Lear Siegler is sold to investment group

By EVON SAJKOVIC ANP Staff Writer

The manufacturing firm of Lear Siegler will have a third owner in one year. The Lear Siegler Corp., based in Southfield, has plants in Detroit, Fenton and Romulus.

The purchase was made by a management group financed by the Kidder Peabody Group Inc. from Forstman Little & Co..for a total of $500 million. Forstman Little & Co., a private venture - capital firm purchased the company last year for $2.1 million.

Senior managers of Lear Siegler Seating will run the new company and that the headquarters would remain in Southfield, according to company reports.

The company is responsible for manufacturing and designing seat systems as well as other interior components for several automakers all over the world.

According to annual reports, revenues are approximately $1 million yearly.

Officials from the company could not be reached for comment.

Post offices hours extended

Window service hours at several local post offices will be restored beginning Saturday, Sept. 10, U.S. Postal Service officials said last week.

Throughout the area, most post office Saturday hours have been restored. The hours were cut back earlier this year by federal government officials.

New local post office hours

- Belleville 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday; 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Thursday and Friday: 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday; 9 a.m. to noon Saturday.
- Inkster 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday; closed Saturday
- Romulus 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday; closed Saturday.
- Westland 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday; 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.
- Wayne 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday; closed Saturday
- Canton 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday; closed Saturday
- Westland Center 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday; 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Food giveaways are cancelled

The September distribution of federal surplus foods has been cancelled through the southeastern Michigan area.

The program - in which surplus cheese, honey, rice and flour are usually distributed - is expected to resume in October.

The cancellation is due to a shortage of surplus food materials, federal officials have said.

New bus routes added in area

Two additional westbound bus routes have been added by the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority.

Effective Saturday, Sept. 10, SEMTA officials will add two Saturday trips to SEMTA Route 185 Westland-Dearborn-Ecorse.

A short trip will be added starting at Fairlane Town Center at 8:28 a.m. and arriving at Westland Center at 9:06 a.m.

A second westbound trip will be added leaving Jefferson/ Southfield at 8:50 a.m., Southfield at 9:28 a.m. and arriving at Westland Center at 10:06 a.m.

Also effective Sept. 10, SEM-TA Route 255 Wayne-Westland Center, leaving Michigan/ - Wayne at 10 a.m., will be discon-

Safety train to visit the area

A "safety train," sponsored by the Michigan Railroad Association, will make a stop in Livonia.

The train visit stems from recent reports ranking Michigan fifth in the nation in car/train crashes. That reputation is the reason for "a safety training rolling press conference,' according to MRA officials. The train will feature the "rolling mansions of the 1940s," with double-decker cars. The glass-domed cars were once the ultimate in luxury travel.

Dukakis visits Westland

Kitty Dukakis (above), wife of Democratic presidential hopeful Michael Dukakis, visited John Glenn High School, in Westland, yesterday, as part of a statewide campaign tour. Dukakis was greeted and impressed by the John Glenn High School marching band, when she arrived at approximately 11:30 a.m. She was so impressed with the performance, in fact, that she invited the band participants to the inauguration ceremonies - if her husband is elected president in November. The politician's wife also spoke of the need for drug awareness in the high schools and detailed her own addiction to diet pills when she was 19. The visit was a surprise to Wayne-Westland school officials, who learned of the campaign stop last Thursday. ANP photo by Ann Grimes/staff photographer

PUBLIC NOTICE RECEIPT OF AN OPERATING LICENSE APPLICATION FOR A HAZARDOUS WASTE FACILITY

The Safety-Kleen Corporation has interim status as a hazardous waste facility pursuant to the Federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA). The Department of Natural Resources (the Department) and the United States Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA), Region V, hereby give notice that on July 11, 1988, Safety-Kleen Corporation submitted an operating license application pursuant to the Michigan Hazardous Waste Management Act, 1979 P.A. 64, as amended. The Safety-Kleen Corporation operates a hazardous waste storage facility at 35201 Crane Road in Romulus, Michigan. Safety-Kleen recycles hazardous wastes generated by other companies. These wastes include spent mineral spirits, solvents and the wastes resulting from dry cleaning operations.

The Department is authorized under RCRA to issue and deny licenses for the operation of hazardous waste facilities, except for the portion of a license which relates to the 1984 Hazardous and Solid Waste Amendments (HSWA) to RCRA. HSWA mandates, in part, that hazardous waste management licenses issued after November 8, 1984, require corrective action for all releases of hazardous waste or hazardous constituents to the environment from any solid waste management units at treatment, storage, or disposal facilities seeking licenses. U.S. EPA, in cooperation with the Department is responsible for making a final determination on the HSWA portion of the application. Thus, until the Department receives authorization to administer the HSWA portion of the RCRA program, reviews of applications and issuance or denial of licenses permits will be conducted jointly.

Department and U.S. EPA staff are currently reviewing the application to determine if it is complete and technically satisfies all state and federal hazardous waste facility licensing requirements. If the application is found to be incomplete, the missing information will be requested from the applicant and the municipality and persons on the facility mailing list will be so notified. As soon as the missing information is provided, the Department will notify the municipality and persons on the facility mailing list and proceed with the technical review of the application. Based upon this review, the Department and U.S. EPA will propose to issue or deny the operating license. Prior to a final determination, a public hearing will be held regarding the

A notice will appear in this publication approximately 30 days prior to the hearing date. At this time, the Department and U.S. EPA are soliciting public comments on the adequacy of the application, the proposed corrective action program, and any issues associated with the facility's past operation. Comments should be sent to the address printed below by October 7, 1988

The company's application may be reviewed at the Department of Natural Resources, Waste Management Division Office, First Floor, South Ottawa Building in Lansing, Michigan; at the Waste Management Division District Office located at 505 W. Main Street in Northville, Michigan (contact Dr. Ben Okwumabua at 313-344-4670); and at the Romulus Public Library, located at 11121 Wayne Road in Romulus, Michigan (contact Dianne Hazen at 313 942-7590). Copies of the application may be obtained from the Waste Management Division for the cost of reproduction (approximately $30), by contacting Ms. Linda Reyes or Mr Steven Sliver at the address printed below.

> Michigan Department of Natural Resources Waste Management Division Box 30028 Lansing, Michigan 48909

To receive future departmental notifications concerning this facility, please submit a written request for placement on the Safety-Kleen Corporation, Romulus, operating license application mailing list to Ms. Linda Reyes at the address printed above. Be sure to include your correct mailing address. Questions regarding the facility should be addressed to Mr. Steven Sliver, the Waste Management Division permit engineer responsible for the review of this application, at 517-373-2730

Fourth annual arts and craft show

The Romulus Arts Council will sponsor an Arts and Crafts Fair at the Romulus City Hall parking lot located at 11111 Wayne Road from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sept. 17.

In addition to arts and crafts, the fair will feature clowns, face painting, workshops and an oil painting demonstration.

For children, the fair will have the annual "Chalk Walk" from 10 a.m. to noon. Area youngsters are invited to decorate the sidewalks around City Hall with colorful chalk drawings. The event is free of charge and chalk is provided but there are only 100 spots available. Each child will also receive a free gift for participating.

Header Products of Romulus will also be sponsoring a display carousel organ from noon until 3

More information about the event is available from Gloria Chandler at 941-2678.

Fall activities planned for seniors

The summer is drawing to a close and it's back to class for instructors at the Senior Center which is located at 36515 Bibbons.

Starting the week of Sept. 12, all classes will once again begin. On Monday morning knitting and crocheting is offered, in the afternoon there is a needlepoint class and an exercise class especially designed for seniors. State lawmakers list environment as goal

ANP Staff Writer

State lawmakers might return to Lansing before the scheduled Sept. 14 legislative new year to decide the date of a $800 million environmental bond

The fall session, shortened because of the November elections, could begin as early as this week to meet a Sept. 9 deadline to place the bond issue on the Nov. 8 general election ballot.

Local lawmaker James Kosteva (D-Canton Township) is among those who hope to see five environmental bills speed through the state Legislature.

"I've done an awful lot of work in solid waste and environmental protection," Kosteva said. "It's important that we provide the right kind of incentives other than landfill."

The bills under consideration provide $140 million for recreational use and $660 million for environmental use, according to Kosteva. Of the $140 million for recreational use, $70 million is targeted for state parks and $70 million for local projects.

Of the $660 million earmarked for environmental use, $425 million would go to cleanup of environmental contamination sites, as specified in the Public Act 307 priority list, $150 million would go to solid waste alternatives, such as recycling, waste-to-energy plants, waste reduction and the Clean Michigan Fund.

Approximately $60 million is targeted for wastewater treatment programs, providing matching funds to upgrade wastewater treatment facilities throughout the state. The remaining $25 million will go to Great Lakes cleanup efforts.

The environmental bond package will require a majority vote of two-thirds of both houses to make it on the November ballot.

But environmental issues are not the onlyconcerns of local state lawmakers. Additional legislative goals for area state lawmakers include

Other bills which Kosteva hopes to push through during the fall session include a wasteto-energy co-generation bill, which would give companies setting, and a bill which would liability.

tighten the law on seat-belt usage, requiring children between the ages of 4 and 12 to buckle up when in the back seat

"It's a matter of public safety policy," Kosteva said. "Numerous national studies and studies at U of M indicate serious injuries can be prevented by wearing seat belts, particularly with younger children."

🔳 State Rep. Gerald Law (R-Plymouth) hopes to clamp down on "credit repair clinics" as part of his personal agenda for the fall legislative session. One bill currently under consideration would regulate companies which promise to improve a client's credit rating.

"We have some problems in southeastern Michigan," Law said. "These companies promise to improve your credit rating, something which they can't do. If you have a bad credit rating, nobody can fix it. There's no magical way to improve it."

Law said 15 states have passed legislation regulating credit repair clinics, which, said Law, "charge money to people who are down and out, unsophisticated."

The companies will typically give clients a form letter to be sent to federal officials challenging their credit rating. The companies hope to inundate the bureaucracy with letters, increasing the response time to more than 30 days. Challenges which are not answered within 30 days must be removed from the files.

Federal officials became wise, Law said, and told employees not to respond to form letters.

Law said anyone can dispute a credit rating by contacting a major credit bureau or the Consumer Protection Agency. The credit bureaus, he said, must provide a person with a copy of his or her credit rating for a nominal fee.

Law's bill would require all credit repair clinics to post a bond and become licensed to operate.

Area balloonist flies in new weekend festival

One local resident will be among 60 balloonists from across the country going up, up and away in The Channel 2 Great Balloon Festival this weekend.

Scott Lorenz, of Plymouth, former co-chairman of the defunct Mayflower Hotel Hot Air Balloon Festival, has been a balloonist for eight years, partly for fun, partly to provide free advertising for the Mayflower Hotel, in Plymouth, where he works as general manager.

"When we did our balloon race in Plymouth, I had quite a few races under my belt," Lorenz said. "I thought, 'hey,' this is a great pastime, and I'm able to advertise for the Mayflower – use it as a promotional tool.

Balloonists to watch during the Channel 2 race, Lorenz said, include Gordon Boring, who helped organize the Plymouth race, and Phil Gebe. Boring will be in a British Airways balloon, and Gebe will be advertising for Pontiac.

The three-day, hot-air balloon races are scheduled to take place at 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. beginning Sept. 9 at Huron Meadows Recreational Area, located at the Lee Road exit of U.S. 23, in Green Oak Township

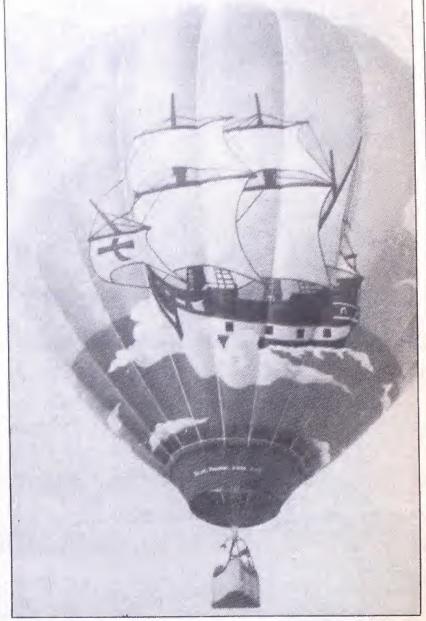

The festival will also feature a variety of musical acts, including rock and roll pioneer Chuck Berry, who is scheduled to perform at 4:30 p.m. Sept. 10.

Financial aid

Per-pupil funding level set by state

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

While state lawmakers bicker over whether to place a proposed state school finance reform package on the Nov. 8 or March 8 ballot, local school districts received news on what to expect in the form of state aid during the 1988-89 school year.

State Board of Education officials said that the formula for the current school year will guarantee per-pupil revenues of $350 plus $77.71 per mill levied by the school district.

"The state school aid formula sets a guaranteed level of revenue per pupil for each mill levied by a school district," said Lynne Estell, an official with the state board of education.

The formula is designed to guarantee reasonable funding levels for all school districts, regardless of the school district property base, Estell said.

The formula is also an attempt to equalize the differences in tax bases between districts. Asked to explain how the formula is developed, Estell said, "it is very complicated. And I believe that is one of the reasons why the some of the lawmakers are attempting to come up with some reasonable

What the lawmakers are proposing – but apparently can't agree upon – is reform packages based on an increase in the state sales tax from the present 4 to 6 cents. To offset that increase and make it tempting to property owners, they are offering homeowners and property owners reductions in property taxes by 50 percent for residential and agricultural and by 30 percent for business.

Before any proposal would take effect, a statewide referendum vote would be necessary. If approved, lawmakers say that the new revenues generated from the tax hike would pump an additional $650,000 into education.

If the lawmakers continue to drag their feet, some informula school districts are contemplating a court challenge to the present method the state government funds schools. They point to the inequities of the present system.

Spending among districts ranges from $2,500 per pupil in the poorest districts to $7,500 in the richer districts.

About 26 percent of the school districts in Michigan do not receive school aid because they have sufficient property wealth to generate sufficient funds for education. These so-

What the lawmakers are roposing – but apparently an't agree upon – is reform ackages based on an increase at the state sales tax from the called "out-of-formula" districts receive "more for their mill" than the poorer or "in formula" districts – those depending on state aid.

The formula, however, also provides greater assistance to school districts with low perpupil property valuation.

State Rep. William Keith (D-Garden City) and Sen. Dan De-Grow (R-Port Huron) remain confident that a package can be presented to the voters that will be acceptable.

But, as Keith has pointed out, "there is still a lot of work to be done on this. And we don't want to put something on the ballot that isn't going to be accepted.

"We have been looking for a compromise at this point," he added.

Leading a coalition of "in formula" school districts that may stir the lawmakers to action by the lawsuit is Richard Wilson, superintendent of Brandon Public Schools. He said the group believes the present system (of school financing) violates the rights of citizens to obtain equal educational opportunities in the state of Michigan.

"The bottom line," Keith said, "is that, whatever we do, it will be up to the voters to approve or reject it."

Area residents, city clerks are hoping to register more voters

By JIM RINK ANP Staff Writer

The politicians are hoping everyone votes Tuesday, Nov. 8. And so are several local residents involved in a statewide education campaign to register as many eligible voters as possible.

Registration deadline for the November election is Oct. 11. Officials from the League of Women Voters are encouraging everyone to remember that date.

Leading the effort to prod generally apathetic members of the public into doing their patriotic duty is Secretary of State Richard H. Austin.

"The 1988 general election is going to play a very significant role in determining the future of our nation, our state and many local communities in Michigan," Austin said. "That is why it is important that as many people as possible register to vote before Oct. 11 and cast ballots in November."

"A lot of people think it's so difficult to register," said Norma Collop, Wayne city clerk. "If they think it's difficult to register, they're going to find it even more difficult to vote. Anybody can register at a Secretary of State's office or come to the clerk's office."

During the August primary, Collop said, voter turnout was slightly more than 10 percent in Wayne.

"It is sad," she said. "You do the same amount of work, hire the same amount of people. When they (the voters) don't show up, it's a little disappointing."

To aid voters, Collop and employees in her department are bending over backward to help voters register by the Oct. 11 deadline.

One way in which voters can simplify the voting process, Collop said, is to apply for an absentee ballot. Registered voters who will be out of the community or who are more than 60 years old are entitled to vote absentee.

"A lot of people say they can't get to the polls in time," Collop said. "If you're from Wayne and you're going to be in Detroit on election day, then you're out of the community – vote absentee ballot."

This year, in Wayne, the 11,118 registered voters who are more than 60 will automatically receive absentee ballots in the mail, Collop said.

In Belleville and Inkster, absentee ballots will be mailed to those 60 or older if requested.

Delphine Oden, Inkster city clerk, is also encouraging people to register. The Inkster clerk's office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. (closed for lunch from noon to 1 p.m.) Oden is recommending that anyone who has moved or changed addresses between elections re-register to avoid any last-minute problems.

Officials from the League of Women Voters are also sponsoring registration drives in Novi and Northville to aid in the

As part of a national effort to increase voter participation, the "It Wasn't Always Possible" campaign is being used in Michigan to remind the general public, particularly young adults, minorities, women and the handicapped that it wasn't always possible for them to vote.

Military personnel earn college credit

Wayne County Community College recently became the first southeast Michigan member of a national network of colleges and universities at which mobile military personnel may earn credits toward a college degree.

The school has been granted membership in the Servicemembers Opportunity Colleges, a civilian-military partnership created in the early 1970s to allow military service members to overcome geographic and institutional obstacles to completing a college education.

Recognizing that mobility makes it unlikely that a service member can complete all' degree program requirements at one institution, SOC facilities design their transfer practices to minimize loss of credit of service members and to avoid duplication o the coursework while maintaining academic integrity.

The school received notification of SOC designation in July.

It might have been only the first week of school, but kindergartners in the liene lbach's morning class at Haggerty School celebrate Bear Day by bringing in their favorite teddy bears. At the left, teacher aide Betty Tontalo brought in the oldest bear - a 55-year-old stuffed toy - and the teacher (shown at the right) shared the honors for the largest bear with Bradley Ashford. Smallest bear present was the one brought to school by Andy Smith. The youngsters snacked on muffins and honey and sang bear songs to their special guests - the teddy bears. ANP photo by Joan Diver

Club Cafe gives hands-on training

By THOMAS M. VARCIE ANP Staff Writer

Club Cafe may sound like an island a bit closer to home than one might Club Cafe is located in the Romulus Junior High School. It's not a beach or a school group taking field trips to exotic places.

What it is, is a group of students learning culinary skills and how to serve the fruits of their labors.

The group was started at the junior high about three years ago. Even then, the group was a hit, according to Dorothy Ogletree, seventh- and eighthgrade teacher at the school. The group, year, cooks up and serves food for the Lunches cost between $1.50 and $3.

takes place in one of the rooms in the resort in the South Pacific. Actually, it's building. The first one, last year, was in October. It was called a mystery luncheon," Ogletree said. "The kids prepare and serve it. It's tied in with their classes.'

> Other luncheons have included a Thanksgiving luncheon, black history lunch and "Just Salads."

The master chefs include seventhand eighth-graders and are all volunteers. They choose the menu, and the supplies are given to them, Ogletree said. Up to 20 students at a time sometimes work on each project.

"We try to involve as many as we can who are interested. This is usually done several times throughout the school during all three lunch periods.'

teachers, administrators and parents. Money from the luncheons is used for "It is a lunch that they serve, and it field trips or funding other projects in the department.

Club Cafe might have an additional educational helping hand this year, according to Ogletree.

"We are working out a partnership where the businesses and school are working together. We will try to get people from the local restaurants and hotels coming in and talking to the students. They can talk to them about work ethics.'

Club Cafe students are expected to meet sometime next week and begin planning for the first luncheon. A date has not been set yet for the meal, but it is for certain that the master chefs will have their hands full.

Lunch

Noon meals tailored to students' tastes

By THOMAS M. VARCIE ANP Staff Writer

School lunches? Ugh!

That's what students used to say. School officials in the Romulus and Van Buren school districts are hoping to change student reactions from "ugh" to "umm" with the lunch programs offered this year. Lunches served in the schools must conform to U.S. Department of Agriculture guidelines - 2 ounces of protein, threefourths cup fruit/vegetable, one to two slices of bread or equivalent and milk.

At the elementary level, hot lunches are available to students daily. The meals are prepared in advance and reheated for the students.

At the junior and senior high schools, the lunch program resembles a fast-food operation. And students like it that way, according to Theresa McCann, director of food services for the Romulus schools.

"More senior high kids have been getting quick things to eat because of the hours they go. But we recently got into a health-food thing. We've been trying to get the health food things in," McCann said.

Because of demand, a salad bar was established in both the junior and senior high schools. Also, by demand, soup and sandwiches are offered every Tuesday at the high school.

"The salad bar has been very popular with the students. But we have such a large choice of food. There's always a choice with the menu we have."

Prices for the Romulus school lunches are $1.10 at the elementary level, $1.25 for students in the secondary schools. Free and discounted lunches are offered to students who apply and are eligible.

The lunch program overall seems to popular with the students, McCann said.

'We definitely are keeping up with students' tastes. We go out in the schools and find out what they want. We try to offer a real variety of foods.

"The acceptability of the lunches has gone over quite well. Now, the students like the fact that there's a better variety."

In the Van Buren schools, students also appear to be pleased with the lunch prog-

At the elementary level, a unique style of lunch is served for students. Instead of students picking up a tray and getting their food, bowls of the food are placed on the table, and students help themselves, according to Dr. Elvin Peets, superintendent of the Van Buren schools. "With this method, everybody starts eating at the same time, instead of one student eating and the others waiting in line for their foods. It's more an 'assemblance' of family, as opposed to institution," Peets said. "The kids seem to like it better." At the middle-school and senior-high levels, students are faced with a dilemmawhat to order. Students have a large selection of various foods from which to choose at the middle and high schools.

A salad bar is offered on certain days, and a variety of a la carte items are available daily to students.

Prices of lunches are $1.35 for elementary students and $1.45 and $1.65 for secondary students. Free and discounted lunches are also available to students who apply and are eligible.

Junior, senior high schools have new tenants

By THOMAS M. VARCIE ANP Staff Writer

Romulus junior and senior high students will have new places to shop this school year. These places won't be at a nearby mall, however.

A new school store is being readied at Romulus Junior High School, and a new store has already been built at Romulus Senior High School.

The general feeling of the old store in the junior high was that it was too small to conduct decent business, school officials said. Plans, now, are to open the store in a former classroom in the school. A tentative opening date has been set for Oct. 7, according to Dorothy Ogletree, seventh- and eighth-grade teacher at the junior high.

"It shouldn't cost anything to build the new store. We are primarily looking for donated items for the store. We will start the store out small," Ogletree said. " We are trying to get a designated place for the store, and we are in the process of ordering new supplies."

Last year, Ogletree said, a survey was conducted at the school to find out what students would like at the store. In response to the results, music tapes, books, comic books. sweaters, shirts and other school items will be sold.

Students do get prepared for entry-level jobs, where they will stay. Depending on their interests, they can go into an entry-level job or management training.

The store will be operated by students, Ogletree said.

"It will be a learning experience for them. We will get them to do inventory and stock work, customer and employee relations. We want to make it as real a work place as we can," she said.

At the high school, the story is about the same - except the store is almost finished according to Bill Musham, one advisor for the store.

Although the school has been home to a school store for 15 years, the new store was built to increase the amount of sales in the store.

The new facility will be 1,400 square feet by 500 square feet larger than the previous one.

We have about the same space, but this is all store. Storage will remain at the old store, along with the offices.' Musham said

Students, as in the past, will operate the store, as part of a four-year marketing education program at the school, Musham said.

"The second year of the program deals with the cashiers and sales personnel. The third year is management training. The fourth year, they go into co-op."

Students in the program attend class for two hours - one hour in class, one hour in the store. The program is a great learning experience for the students, he said.

"Students do get prepared for entry-level jobs, where they will stay. Depending on their interests, they can go into an enrty-level job or management training.'

Each student in the program will have a chance to manage

"Each hour the store is open. there is a new manager. They have to show they have the aptitude for it," Musham said.

The program, Musham said, is one of the largest high school marketing programs in the state. About 300 students are enrolled. Each class, he said, has approximately 25 students.

The school store (above) at Romulus Senior High School has already been constructed. Now, it is ready to be stocked. ANP photo by

Environment must be a top concern

Recess ended early this week. And state lawmakers had plenty of homework to complete before Friday. We're hoping they will finish it.

The state legislators returned from their summer vacations one week earlier than planned to act on a $800 million environmental bond issue they hope to place on the Nov. 8 general election ballot. They have until Friday to approve the ballot proposal, since Friday is the filing deadline for all propositions scheduled to appear before the general election voter.

At issue in the bond issue is whether the state should sell bonds totalling $800 million to benefit the environment and several recreation programs in the state. At issue also is whether we will find a workable solution to the problem of landfills and solid wastes in this state.

If the bonding package is approved by state lawmakers this week and by Michigan voters in November, $425 million would be poured into efforts to clean up environmental contamination sites in the state, one of which is the Rouge River. In addition, $150 would be used to aid solid-waste recycling projects - incinerators - and $60 million would be used to clean up wastewater treatment plants throughout the state.

The remaining bond monies would go toward increased funding of the state parks and local recreation projects.

Clearly, we have waited far too long to launch an aggressive effort to clean up our environment. But we can wait no longer.

Today, we urge state lawmakers to heed the importance of placing the $800 million environmental bond issue on the November ballot and approve the measure in both houses of the state legislature before the Friday deadline. We urge these lawmakers to show bipartisan support for a project so crucial to improving the quality of our lives.

Solid wastes, incineration, contaminated water and other environmental terminology are, indeed, confusing for even the trained voter. An aggressive educational campaign will be necessary to show the residents in this state the importance of this ballot issue.

An environmentally polluted state is a threat to our economic prosperity, our business climate, our recreation sources - and our lives. It's time we all started to pay attention to environmental concerns and do something to change the devastating environmental course we are taking.

It's time we all cleaned up our acts. Approval of the November ballot proposal will be the first step.

It's simply un-American

Members of the League of Women Voters in Canton Township wanted to do something patriotic. They wanted to help a worthwhile cause.

But it appears one official in the township, however, will attempt to stop them in their tracks. League members have joined state officials in a "It Wasn't Always Possible" campaign, urging nonregistered voters throughout the state to register and vote in the Nov. 8 general election. The campaign is being spearheaded by Michigan Secretary of State Richard Austin and is hoped to attract more voters to the polls during the November presidential election. Members of the local group have gone so far as to become deputized by local community clerks - deputized to have the power to register voters - and have taken their voterregistration drive to the malls and in the communities. Community clerks from Novi, Northville and Northville township have all agreed to aid the effort by deputizing League members in the project. Canton Township Clerk Linda Chuhran, however, has refused to empower League members to register voters, saying there are already enough places where nonregistered voters can become registered, such as the local clerk's office and the Secretary of State's offices.

Such a refusal to cooperate in this worthwhile effort labels Canton Township "uncooperative" and "unsympathetic." It is unfortunate that Chuhran has taken such a pointless stance, since there can never be too many places to register to vote in our democratic form of government.

We are sure most officials in Canton Township would welcome the opportunity and chance ir additional voters in November. We are not sure, however, why Chuhran is opposing the idea. We are hoping she can provide some answers.

Wayne parade was a success

The Wayne festival parade in 1988 went off as scheduled, and it didn't even rain. The veterans took the lead, then a fire truck came along.

The yacht club came along with a big, long sign in the distance. You could hear a song.

The Shriners in their little cars, the clowns painted up, the girls dancing in their pretty garbs and the karate performers all showed their stuff.

The Moose club and celebrities' convertibles and antique cars and photographers taking pictures were there as we came down to the wire.

The parade was great to watch. It just made our day.

City workers reply to letter

This letter is in reply to William J. Hayek's letter (Aug. 24).

As employees of Westland, we would like to address your question, which was, "When did the citizens of Westland lose control of the people who are suppose to be serving us?'

First, Westland residents who exercise their voting rights elect a mayor and council members to represent them. Therefore, your so-called control is covered under our democratic system.

Maintaining some of this control would be done if you and other Westland residents were to attend the open council meetings on the first and third Mondays of each month and contribute a voice in your government.

Second, addressing your "misfortune," as employees, we do serve the public to the best of our knowledge and positions, whether it be by phone or in person. Your incident when returning an absentee ballot could have only happened if you were standing in the wrong line.

There are two different departments working the counter you referred to. Each side is clearly divided by a bank-type rope and two poles. There were also signs above your head and ahead of you which read "finance department" (on the left side) and 'city clerk'' (on the right).

Therefore, when you came in, we are sure you must have accidentally been in the wrong line. Many citizens have not taken notice of all the directions so clearly in view for department information. You honestly cannot expect a finance department employee to assist you in elections, ballots, zoning, council, etc., or a city clerk employee to take you taxes and water bills, etc., when they are not in their respective departments.

We know you won't like hearing this, but one department cannot do the duties of another. As taxpayers and employees of Westland, we work very hard to serve our fellow citizens and consider ourselves very conscien-

As for the three employees you mentioned standing around talking, we are all sorry you did not ask to see a supervisor, as we are sure you misinterpreted the situation. Your problems or questions regarding our working performance could have been cleared up immediately, and you would not have left as upset as you were.

Michigan Trust to benefit state beauty

Few states enjoy a spectacular environment like ours. Local and state recreation areas that enhance our natural resources have become known across the

In fact, the Michigan state parks system attracted a record 24 million visitors in 1987, including tourists from across the country.

A state House bill recently signed into law will expand and enhance the Michigan local and state recreation areas and facilities. The legislation awards more than $20 million in outdoor recreation grants from the Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund to fund 60 recreation projects across the state this year.

Almost 45 cities, villages, townships and counties will share in $8.1 million for local land acquisition or recreation development project. Another $12 million will go to the state Department of Natural Resources to fund an additional 14 state outdoor recreation projects.

The legislation includes funding for local projects to expand and acquire land for public parks and to develop additional public beaches, hiking and bicycle trails, marinas, fishing piers, nature and picnic areas and neighborhood playground. These are the attractions that are making Michigan a leader in tourism.

The funds will also help the DNR acquire additional land in state parks, forests and wildlife areas to improve hunting, fishing, camping and trail activities. Projects supported by the funds will provide greater public access to the Great Lakes, inland lakes and streams for boating and fishing enthusiasts and everyone who loves the Michigan "water wonderful."

The Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund is an important part of our efforts to improve our quality of life, by increasing and improving state recreation lands and facilities. The Trust Fund gives state and local governments a hand in expanding and enhancing recreation areas for the benefit of our citizens and visitors to our state.

The funding will also help Michigan provide "close-tohome" recreation for Michigan residents. When they seek a pleasant peninsula, they will only have to look around themselves.

Ison takes a Chance and leads Belleville to victory over Taylor, 20-0

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

The right stuff ...

That's what Coach Dave McCarney and the Belleville High Tigers had Friday night for their 20-0 season-opening victory over non-conference football rival, Taylor Center.

The defense was there.

And the offense, led by junior quarterback Jeremy Ison and running back Virgil Hunter, was impressive.

"We played as good as we possibly could on defense," said McCarney who got off his third season as the Tigers' head coach with a smile on his face. A far cry from the previous two openers when Westland John Glenn, a traditional opener, would ruin the day (and the season) for them. "It's always nice to begin the season with a victory."

However, Belleville's next opponent is Dearborn Fordson, the defending Wolverine 'A' Conference champ. And Coach Charles Jestice and his Tractors, perennial state powers, are coming off of a 12-7 loss to Midland Dow.

Belleville has never beaten the Tractors on the Dearborn-based high school's gridiron. McCarney sees the Saturday 1:30 p.m. conference confrontation shaping up as a hard-hitting affair.

"They (Fordson) lost some 22 players a year ago, and coming right back and managing to give a traditionally tough Midland Dow club a battle to-the-end game speaks very highly of this Fordson team.

"Believe me, I feel that this is going to be another tough one," McCarney predicted.

Belleville got on the scoreboard midway in the first quarter against the visiting Taylor Center club thanks to an Ed Phillips' interception of a screen pass at the TC 32-yard line.

With Ison at the throttle, the Tigers moved to the 19 where the junior QB picked out tight endCraig Chance for the first score of the 1988 campaign.

Chad McCarney's boot made it a 7-0 game.

Belleville then made it a 13-0 ball game in the second quarter as Ison and Chance again teamed up for the score. This time it was a 4-yard TD toss that got the Tigers on the scoreboard.

Kevin Hunter's excellent return of a TC punt helped put Belleville deep into TC territory. Chandler had two excellent runs in a seven-play series that put the Tigers on the Taylor 4.

McCarney's attempt for the extra point sailed to the right of the

"We were doing things out there that pleased us," McCarney noted.

Belleville didn't let up after the intermission. On the Tigers' first possession of the third quarter, Chandler broke loose on a 47-yard touchdown run that all but pounded the nails into Taylor's coffin. McCarney came back and kicked the extra point for the final point of the game.

Chandler, who is the conference sprinting champ, picked up 108

Vikings fall in opener

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

"At some times, our defense looked awesome; and at times, we just weren't concentrating."

That's how sophomore Inkster football Coach Alonzo Glaze summed up the Vikings' season-opening 18-6 setback at the hands of Willow Run Friday afternoon before the home crowd.

The game was the Suburban Athletic Conference opener for both teams.

Inkster gave up all 18 points in the third quarter after holding the speedy Flyers scoreless the first two frames. It was Lamar Guilatt who did most of the damage to the Vikings' defense. He picked up a total of 113 yards rushing and also contributed a 70-yard TD

The Vikings got on the scoreboard midway in the last quarter when quarter-back Earl Casey teamed up with Kevin Garrett for a 13-yard TD pass. Casey's pass for the two-point conversion sailed past his receiver.

Terrance Armstrong was instrumental in that lone Inkster TD drive as he rushed for a first down on a 27-yard off-tackle slant. He also nagged a six-yard pass from Casey that carried the Vikings deep into the Willow Run air strip.

Glaze felt the Vikings dominated the game, "but for that third period when we made some crucial mis-

Saline upsets Robichaud, 8-6

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

Saline apparently hasn't been reading the newspapers. They weren't supposed to do what they did Friday afternoon to Dearborn Heights Robichaud.

Capitalizing on eight turnovers, Saline upset state-ranked Robichaud 8-6 to spoil the football opener for Coach Bob Yauck and his Bulldogs.

"It hurts. It hurts because it is a game we should have won but coughed up the ball too many times," Yauck said. "And you can't win ball games when you give up as many scoring opportunities that we had. In fact, we made more turnovers in one game than some teams do in one season."

Robichaud saw at least four good chances to go into the end zone erased when ballcarriers got overzealous and anxious and let the ball slip loose from their mitts.

Robichaud will have to remedy their malaise when University of Detroit High comes to town Friday afternoon. U of D will probably be the biggest and most physical team that the Bulldogs will encounter this season, according to the Robichaud coach.

"I don't know what happened to them against Lincoln (Ypsilanti Lincoln), but they (U of D) are an excellent team. We just can't afford to give up the ball like we did against Saline."

Saline broke a scoreless first quarter midway in the second when they recovered a Robichaud fumble on the Bulldog six-yard line, thanks to safety Jeff Coore who pounced on the loose ball. Three plays later, senior halfback Brian Bozo scored. he also got the two-point conversion to make it an 8-0 ballgame.

Neither team managed to tilt the scoreboard in the third stanza, although the Bulldogs looked as if they had a TD when fullback Carl Brown appeared to have gone over the goal line. However, he lost the ball going in.

Robichaud did get on the board late in the game when Wheatley dashed in from the two. Quarterback Eric Thomas picked out Wheatley for the two-point conversion, however failed to find his target in the masses covering him in the end zone.

"We threatened at least four times," Yauck noted, "and lost the ball because of fumbles. It really hurt to see us lose this one."

Wheatley, a sophomore who earned All-Conference and All-Area recognition last year, finished with 86 yards on 19 tries while Thomas completed three of nine for 41 yards, including those two

Out of frying pan

Romulus awaits state champ, Ann Arbor

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

Right out of the proverbial frying pan and into the fire will fly the Romulus Eagles, who dropped a 15-12 season-opener Friday on the home field to Taylor Truman.

And now Coach Norb Glover and his gridders have to face none other than an angered and fired-up Ann Arbor Pioneer, the defending Class A state football champs which lost their 1988 debut 34-25 to Lansing Eastern.

Romulus gave up two first half touchdowns to Truman, then came back in the second half and almost pulled it out with a pair of their own TDs.

Looking ahead to the Pioneer game, Glover said he is anticipating a good game.

"We are looking forward to

We have a kind of team that it's a pleasure to show up and coach. Pioneer? We'll be there...

playing them. We'll be there," he said.

'There' is Romulus' home field at the Junior High School. The game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday.

In the meantime, Glover and his staff are looking over the film of the Truman game and what they see ''is encouraging."

"We had two TDs taken away from us," Glover said. "And this team, I believe, played good enough to win. It's also a team that plays together. Believe me, it's the kind of team I like to show up and coach.''

After trailing 15-0 at the half, Romulus came back in the third quarter and scored on Eben Smith's 15-yard touchdown run off tackle.

The Eagles elected to go for the two-point conversion and the run fell short of the goal line.

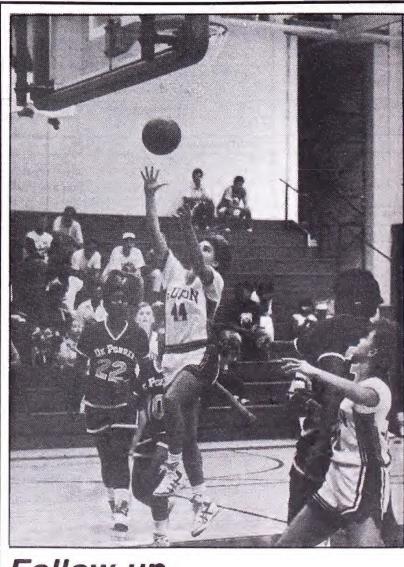

The Eagles put the outcome of the game in doubt midway in the fourth period when they again struck for a TD. This time it was halfback Aro Trinity plowing through Truman's defense and breaking away for a 13-yard score. The conversion again was foiled by a stubborn Truman defense.

Trinity's TD was set up by a fumble recovery. Tom Patterson pounced on the ball at the Truman 15, and two plays later Trinity went into the end zone via a trap play.

Williams looked shaky in his first start at quarterback. He completed only one of 10 passes and had three intercepted. Trinity, a 5-10, 190-pound senior rushed for 72 yards in 12 carries while Smith had 62 yards on 14 tries and Eric Harris rushed for 55 yards on eight attempts.

"Our running backs looked good," Glover said, "but we have to get our passing game going. If we can do that...to open up the defense a bit, we

State champs ruin Huron opener

Chiefs fall to DePorres cagers by 26

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

New Boston Huron learned the hard way why Detroit St. Martin DePorres is considered one of the finest girls basketball schools in Michigan.

DePorres, the defending Class C state champs, jumped to a 12-4 first period lead and coasted to a 67-41 victory over Coach Bill Harrison's Chiefs Thursday night in the season opener for both teams.

A combination of first game iitters, the nervousness of playing the state champ, and poor shot selections led to the Chiefs' demise, according to Harrison.

"We were nervous," Harrison admitted. "But we played a much better second half than we did a first half. After that horrendous first period, we played catch up against them and you can't do that against a team like DePorres.'

DePorres built up a 33-15 lead at the half and, although the Chiefs closed the gap, they never made up the difference. Huron trailed 52-27 as the two teams entered the final

The Chiefs also had one more player in double figures -Laurel Haener, who had 11.

The Chiefs didn't look good at the free throw line where they canned only six of 15.

Defensively, linebacker Brian Hutchinson, who was "all over the field"; Ed Phillips, a senior defensive end, and Brian Gonczy, stood out. Gonczy took some of the steam out of a TC drive when he nailed a Ram ballcarrier, causing a fumble.

Belleville's untested secondary stood up to the test, although the Rams launched 22 passes and completed 10 for a total of 112

King of the Hill

Huron quarterback scores 3 touchdowns in Chiefs' 20-7 victory over Annapolis

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

Paul Hill is the "King of the Hill."

At least, the New Boston Huron senior quarterback was on top of his game Friday against Dearborn Heights Annapolis. Hill scored on the opening kickoff, sprinting 88 yards to a touchdown and went on to score three touchdowns and lead Huron to a 20-7 opening-season victory.

However, Annapolis came right back and scored, then went ahead 7-6 to shock coach Tom LaBeau and the Chiefs, who weren't expecting a quick retaliation.

"They really caught us by surprise," LaBeau confessed. "They put together an excellent drive after we scored and came right back at us. We weren't prepared.

"After that first drive, our defense settled down and played a pretty good game the rest of the way.

Trailing 7-6 midway in the first quarter, the Chiefs and Hill got down to work and erased the deficit. In five plays, and 71 yards later, Hill again took the ball in, this time from 17 yards out.

The Chiefs tried an option for the two-point conversion and failed to get on the scoreboard.

of the game early in the second cerned after Annapolis put quarter as Hill broke away on a 56-yarder thanks to the option play. It was the option that caught the Annapolis Cougars napping on the next play - the conversion.

This time, instead of taking it over himself. Hill chose Matt Hamilton and Hamilton went in and scored.

LaBeau said he was con-together the long TD drive, but after that "we were totally in control of the game.'

The Chiefs had a couple of other touchdown threats erased after losing the ball via a fumble on the one-yard line in the third quarter. They penetrated inside the Cougar 25yard line on two other separate occasions but couldn't find the right formula to go the distance.

Hamilton, a sophomore runningback, rushed for 121 yards on 12 carries while Pete Hill, Paul's twin, picked up 59 yards on 10 tries. He also had two long runs called back on him due to infractions.

The Chiefs managed to amass 338 yards, rushing for 307. They had 17 first downs compared to Annapolis's nine and 117 total yardage. The Chiefs also were stuck with 10 penalties that cost them 70 yards while Annapolis was caught with four infractions for a total of 40 yards.

LaBeau was extremely pleased with the initial defensive efforts of All-Area gridder

Tom Waters, a tackle, Mike Emery and Sam Hall.

'The whole line just stood out," he said.

LaBeau is hoping for another superlative performance from his team as they prepare to launch the conference schedule. They will travel to Carlson Friday night, a team that is coming off of a 3-0 victory over Bedford.

takes, I thought we had a good first-game.'

Casey was on target with six of his 15 passes for 40 yards, but those passes that weren't completed "tore the numbers off of his receivers.'

"You can't blame him (Casey)," Glaze said. "He was right on the button. Right into the hands of his receivers and they failed to catch the ball."

Inkster's Eric Ivey rushed for 56 yards on four attempts, another bright spot, while William Simpson, who connected on five solo tackles and three assists, was a standout on defense. Teammates Carlos Lucas, a tackle who also had four solos and an assist, and monster linebacker, Chris Gillespie, also contributed to the success of the Inkster defense.

River Rouge, a 12-6 loser to Monroe St. Mary's, a power in the Huron Conference and perennial state playoff candidate, invades Inkster Friday afternoon at 3:30. The defending Suburban Athletic Conference's cochamps looked good in their opener.

"They lost to a strong Monroe team," pointed out Glaze, "and they're going to be tough. We expect another big battle here, but I am not going to take any thing away from our kids. I believe we are going to give them a good game.

Wayne gets off to winning start against Garden City

By TERRY JACOBY ANP Staff Writer

David versus Goliath. Man versus the whales.

Call it whatever you want, but it was a very unevenly matched football game Friday night at Wayne Memorial, as the Zebras marched up and down the field over visiting Garden City for a 24-7 win.

It was the season opener for both schools and also the debut of Zebras quarterback Bryan Tapp, who had a fine opening night.

"I thought he threw the ball extremely well, and I was very happy with the decisions he made out on the field," said Wayne Coach Chuck Howton.

The trouble started early for Garden City and could have been much worse if the Zebras had played up to their ability.

Wayne started the opening drive from the Zebras' 29-yardline and ended it in the Garden City end zone. Tapp showed no signs of stage fright, as he threw a 14-yard strike to fullback Scott Kopczyk on the opening play.

Tapp also completed a crucial pass on a third-down-andnine call, which kept the drive alive.

But it wasn't Tapp throwing the first touchdown pass of the season for Wayne Memorial. It was 5-foot-11-inch running back Greg Walker.

The first-year running back took a pitch from Tapp and appeared to be running a sweep play. But Coach Chuck Howton was already dipping into his bag of tricks.

Walker pulled up and fired a pass to speedster Thomas Faision, who beat double coverage and hauled in the 28-yard touchdown throw

The play brought the Wayne Memorial spectators on to their feet and prompted public address announcer Bill Brooks to remind them that this is the year of the Zebra.

The extra point failed, and Wayne Memorial led, 6-0.

The Zebras' defense was also playing well, allowing Garden City just six plays in the first quarter.

The Zebras took the 6-0 lead into the second quarter and appeared to be on their way to another score, when they had a first-and-goal situation on the, 5-yard line.

But the Garden City defense rose to the occasion and proved something to everyone, as they turned back all four attempts

Garden City then began to move the football - more correctly, the referee moved the football

The first-game mistakes began to appear one after another during this drive. The Zebras were caught for face-masking, lining up in the neutral zone, offsides and roughing the punter. It was a series Howton would like to erase from the history books.

"We made a lot of mistakes and had too many penalties out there," he said. "They were a lot of little mistakes that can really hurt you in a close game.' But Garden City failed to take advantage of the Wayne hospitality. A 47-yard field goal attempt was botched when the center sailed the ball over the holder's head all the way back to their own 43-yard line.

And it didn't take Wayne long to capitalize on that.

Tapp fired a perfect strike to wide receiver Shayler Barnes on the next play. The veteran receiver took the ball into the end zone and gave the Zebras a 12-0 halftime lead.

Walker then scored on a sixyard run, and, several minutes later, Reggie Clemons scored on a two-yard run, following a Garden City fumble on the Cougars' 10-yard line. The fumble, which came on a punt, was recovered by Brad Wellman, who also had an outstanding day on defense. "He (Wellman) made some real nice plays out there, and he is an outstanding defensive player," praised Howton.

Wellman made a big hit in the third quarter, which could be heard all over the stadium.

Howton also praised the performances of middle linebackers Steve Badell and Scott Kopczyk.

Romulus senior linebacker, Rick Champagne, who was named to the ANP All-Area team a year ago, played an exceptional game on defense as he counted nine solo tackles and six assists. Patterson also carded five unassisted and four assists while defensive tackle, Riccardo Donald, stood out.

Romulus went into their initial contest without the services of another All-Area performer, fullback Ali Campbell, Statistically, Robichaud didn't fare well, either. The Bulldogs had a total of 127 yards rushing and 41 passing. They chalked up seven first downs as compared to Saline's eight first downs, 54 passing and 129 rushing.

Robichaud lost All-Area guard Tim Parker early in the game to a foot injury. And Parker is on the doubtful starting list for Friday's U of D game.

Dig out those old clothes - from the 1940s, that is Marlon Brando and Humphrey Bogart would feel right at home in clothing stores these days.

The dapper look of the 1940s is the fashion for the fall of 1988. For men, women and children.

If you have a jacket with "Joan Crawford" shoulder pads, trash it. If you have a skirt that covers the ankles or barely hides the torso, fling it.

If you have a wardrobe of glowing neon colors or eyepunky is definitely out."

The working woman has definitely had an effect on the fashion industry, according to Janet Croft, assistant manager of Dancer's, in Lakewood Center, Belleville. Fall Fashion centers around a softer, more feminine look - clothes that are versatile and can make the transition from workplace to evening engage-

"Many of our customers are working women," Croft said. "They want to look feminine as well as professional. That's one of the reasons that short skirts are out this season - they just don't fit into the lifestyle of the working woman. Both the very long and the very short skirts are 'out' this season. The popular length - the most flattering one - is just below the knee."

Dual purpose clothes - dresses or skirts and blouses with jackets - are popular, Croft said, because women can wear the dress and jacket during the workday and remove the jacket for evening wear. Often the outfits are accented with scarves another popular item for fall fashion.

"I guess I could say we are back to basics - more conservative colors and styles and a return to clean, simple lines," Croft said. "There will still be shoulder pads in clothing, but they will be more moderate - no more Joan Crawford-style shoulder pads."

Sweaters are making big fashion news with angora inserts, soft, rich colors and decorative, patterned designs and stitching, Croft said. Cardigans, once on the "out" list, are back in style and more popular than ever, she added.

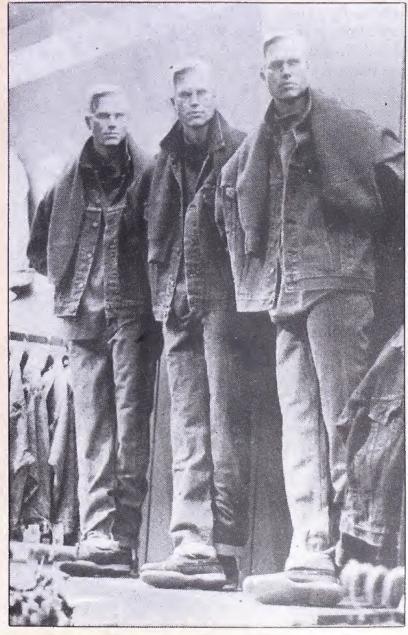

Greens and browns are "in" this season, along with plaids and argyles, according to Croft and Phyllis Moga, of Uptown Blues, in Lakewood. Both noted that natural fabrics and natural or muted colors are high on the fashion list for fall.

Moga has noticed more fashion awareness from the high school and college age customers she serves. Although trends and fads tend to differ from school to school, she generally sees a return to the basic, clean-cut look.

Meet one of our toughest customers.

Don't let this innocent look fool you. A sick child can be the most demanding of patients. One that requires care that goes beyond medical science. Care that includes a reassuring touch. A calming voice. The ability to explain procedures in terms you and your child can understand. And we even encourage a parent to stay overnight.

It's all part of the care your child will receive at Oakwood's Women and Children's Health Care Center. Where our pediatricians, nurses, and specialists in family practice are committed to make your child comfortable. By taking the time to get to know your child, we can deliver the necessary treatment in a way he or she responds to most favorably. And we urge parents to participate in their child's health care program-because it can help both you and your child feel better, sooner.

To care for acutely ill children, Oakwood has a Close Observation Room. It is equipped with special pediatric monitors and other sophisticated equipment that makes it easier for us to give those with serious illnesses or injuries the extensive care they need.

When you choose one of our pediatricians or family practitioners, you'll have available all the sources of Oakwood Hospital, a 615-bed teaching facility in Dearborn. For a physician specializing in women and children's health care, call our Physician Referral Service at 1-800-543-WELL.

Please, don't tell Mildred

Stop calling me. I'm sorry, I apologize and it really wasn't my fault anyway. The answer is 1 1/4 cups of boiling water for all of you who have been asking the question. The question, of course, is how much water in Mildred's lemon pie filling. It seems the amount was inadvertently omitted from the recipe printed last week and several cooks were more than just a tad upset about

In the conversations, however, it became apparent that Mildred's recipes are the all-time favorite of local readers. Actually, as I explained last week, the recipes come from a cook book the gas company gave away nearly 50 years ago when newlyweds purchased their first gas

Those young brides evidently took the recipes to heart and many have become trasured traditions with local families who grew up with these wholesome, no-nonsense treats.

In looking through the book, which is dog-eared and tattered nearly beyond use, I found a few more which sound really super. Since the weather has started to cool off and baking no longer is such a chore, it seemed like a good time to share a few more.

However, I would appreciate it if, under no circumstances, nobody revealed to Mildred that I botched up one of her recipes in this column. If she finds out that I have messed up like this, there will be no living with her. I can hear the phone ringing now and her voice telling me just what she thinks of such carelessness and incompetence.

Oh, woe is me. Please, I'll reveal every secret recipe I've ever possessed, just don't tell Mildred about last week. Let's keep it between us, shall we? Thanks.

Pineapple chiffon pie

- 2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1/2 cup sugar Dash salt
- 2 cups hot crushed pineapple, including juice
- 1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped 1 baked pastry shell

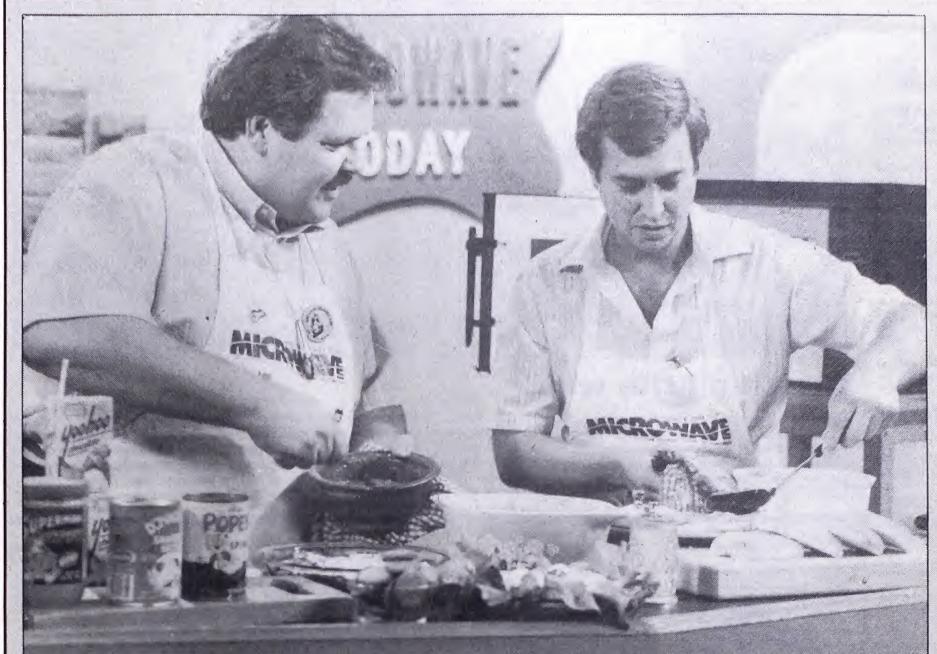

Soften the gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Add sugar and salt and dissolve in boiling pineapple. Cool slightly and add lemon juice. Continue cooling and when filling begins to thicken, beat until light and foamy. Fold in whipped cream and pile into pastry shell and chill until firm.

Spiced cream pie

- 2 eggs
- 1 cup sour cream 1 cup seedless raisins
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon flour 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- Pastry for single crust 9-inch

Beat eggs until light. Add sour cream and raisins. Blend sugar, flour, cinnamon, nutmeg and salt and add to first mixture. Line pie pan with pastry and pour in filling. Place thin strips of pastry acoss top of filling. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) for 15 minutes, then reduce temperature to moderate (350 degrees) and continue baking until filling is firm, about 30 minutes. Serve hot.

Learning how to use the microwave to full potential is as easy as turning on the television set for Omnicom Cablevision subscribers. Local chefs "Chili" Joe Wnuk (left) and Curt Rellinger prepare easy-to-make dishes each week on their cable television show, ANP photos by Ann Grimes/staff photo-

MICROWAVE MAGIC MAKES MEALS

Television chefs give easy details

By JOAN MARY DYER Belleville City Editor

Microwave ovens have revolutionized the kitchen and removed the shackles of "slaving over a hot stove" for working women, homemakers, singles, youngsters and just about everyone from tots to seniors.

Helping the hundreds of area residents to utilize their applicance to its maximum potential are Chili Joe Winuk and Chef Curtis Rellinger, cohosts of a microwave cooking program on Omnicon cable television.

Westland resident Winuk, earned his nickname some seven years ago when he won a shelf full of trophies in chili cooking competitions. He teamed up with Chef Curtis about three months ago to stage a cooking show that strives to be both informative and enertaining.

"We've done shows on preparing breakfasts, lunches and dinners plus seafoods and many ethnic foods," said Chili Joe. "We've covered Chinese, Mexican, Polish and African specialties as well as classic cooking and seafoods."

In one of their scheduled programs, the two microwave chefs plan to show their viewers dozens of ways to prepare the old standby - Spam - with modern technology.

"We're trying to reach all of the microwave cooks, those who prepare full meals as well as those who heat up leftovers on paper plates or fix a hot sandwich at 3 a.m.," Chili Joe said. "We also instruct them about new cookware and cooking ideas and provide our viewers with a variety of recipes."

Those who have questions or are looking for particular microwave recipes can write to Chili Joe and Chef Curtis at P.O. Box 85851, Westland, Mich.

While some owners of microwave ovens only utilize the appliance for brewing a cup of tea or reheating leftovers, a variety of foods from appetizers to desserts can be cooked - quickly and easily - in the microwave oven. In fact, an entire meal can be prepared in the microwave quickly - cooking time is one-third to two-thirds less than conventional methods; economically - annual costs are estimated to be 10 percent of conventional ranges and ovens, and easily - many foods are prepared in their serving dishes, thus eliminating extra pots and pans to clean.

What follows is an all-microwave

As dinner guests arrive, arrange an assortment of crackers or chips on a serving dish and begin entertaining by whipping up this simple dip in the microwave.

Pecan dip

- 1 8 oz. package of cream cheese
- 2 tablespoons milk 1/2 cup sour cream
- 1/4 cup green pepper, finely chopped
- 1/4 teaspoon each of pepper and garlic salt
- 2 tablespoons dried onlon flakes
- 1 tablespoon butter, melted 1/2 cup pecans, coarsely chopped
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Put cream cheese in a bowl (suitable for serving) and microwave 45 seconds. Add milk, green pepper, garlic salt, pepper, onion flakes and sour cream. Mix well. Place butter in cup and microwave 30 seconds to melt. Add pecans and salt and stir well. Spoon over cheese mixture. Serve at room temperature or microwave an additional 45 seconds to warm.

Next, serve up a bowl of delicious Cheddar Cream Soup to start the meal.

Detailed instructions and careful preparation are important while "on the air," the microwave chefs explained. Their cooking program is accented by the wit and "flavorful" humor Joe Wnuk often displays, such as in "classics night," when Donald Duck grapefruit and Popeye spinach are used (above).

Cheddar cream soup

- 1/4 cup butter 1/2 onlon, finely minced
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon salt 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 4 cups milk
- 3 cups cheddar cheese, grated

Put butter and onion in a large casserole and microwave for 5 minutes. Add flour, milk and seasonings and stir well. Microwave 8 minutes, stirring a few times until mixture begins to boil. Add cheese and microwave 2 to 3 minutes until cheese is melted. Blend and then garnish with parsley or chives.

Utilize some tart Michigan apples in the entree along with thickly sliced pork chops and enjoy an easy-to-fix dinner in 15 minutes or less.

Spiced pork chop/apple bake

- 6 thick pork chops, or 1 for each
- 2 tart apples, cored
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon each nutmeg and cin-
- namon 1 large onion

Trim fat from chops and coat chops thoroughly with mixture of sugar and spices. Stand upright in a glass loaf pan. Slice apples and onions and place them between the chops. Cover with plastic wrap and microwave for 14 to 15 minutes. Wait 5 minutes before serving.

Prepare one of the following vegetables: a whole winter squash by cooking 5 to 6 minutes in the microwave (first punching wholes in the squash), then cutting and removing the seeds and serve with butter and brown sugar; corn on the cob by cooking 6 to 8 minutes after first rinsing under water, leaving damp and wrapping in plastic wrap, or fresh broccoli (1 pound) by arranging in large casserole after being rinsed and splitting stems for uniform size, adding 1/4 cup of water, covering and microwaving for 6 to 7 minutes.

Top off the meal with an oldfashioned Pineapple Upside Down Cake that takes just a little more than 7 minutes to prepare in the microwave

Pineapple upside-down cake

- 2 tablespoons butter 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1 8-oz. can crushed, drained pineappie (reserve juice)
- 2 cups yellow cake mix (save remainder for another recipe for double other ingredients to bake two
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts (optional)

Melt butter in an 8-inch round glass pan. Add brown sugar, pineapple and nuts, if desired. Mix together and spread evenly. Prepare cake mix according to directions, using the pineapple juice for the liquid (add water, if necessary). Spread cake batter evenly over the first mixture and cover with waxed paper. Microwave for 7 minutes, turning frequently. Remove and wait at least 1 minute before placing on a serving plate.

Fashion

"Clothing this fall is more preppy and no punky," said Moga. "I see a more conservative look for the younger person as well as the mature woman."

Moga cautioned shoppers to stay away from the "electric colors that some stores are still pushing." The bright neon hues are "definitely out," she said, even though they may still be featured on some clothing racks.

Jeans are still in fashion, according to Moga, but the "jeans and shirt" uniform for teens is being phased out by sweaters, big tops, crop tops, cardigans and a variety of pants. The "in" look for jeans is the darker color jeans, she said, plus some acid-washed varieties.

This fall, pants feature folddown and paper bag waists the latter flared above the belt like the top of a paper bag - and denim bows and ribbons decorating jeans at the ankle, Moga said.

As for prices, the fashion coordinators said, there is bad news and good news. The bad news is that clothing prices tend to be higher this fall, but the good news is that consumers can find excellent buys in clothing by careful shopping.

Men should be decked out in baggy, pleated pants, loosefitting jackets - and don't forget the round-rimmed spectacles to fit into the fashion world.

"The '40s look is really popular with the baggy pants," said Nancy Dugas, co-manager at Silvermans, in Westland Center. Men are going for the dressy but comfortable look, she Loose-fitting sportcoats in lightweight fabric are a must for every man's closet.

Informal suits are also a big hit, according to Kevin Baringhaus, manager of Oaktree, at Westland Center. These mixand-match suits allow more versatility than the traditional Pairing that informal suit with a turtleneck sweater will really show people you are in step with fashion, Baringhaus said. At Oaktree, an ample supply of turtlenecks and the less-rigid mock turtlenecks are on hand. Baringhaus said the shorts work well with the sportcoats or with cardigan sweaters.

Sweaters are always in for fall. But, this year, the push is on for texture, bold graphics and leather accents.

A cardigan sweater with leather patches on the shoulder will do a great deal to boost a man's fall wardrobe, according to Dugas.

Texture and design is added to the 1988 sweater by using more varied fibers.

David Hakola, assistant manager for Richman Brothers, at Westland Center, said sweaters made of acrylic, rayon and silk are especially stylish. The varied fibers give sweaters a much more textured look.

Men who tend to become hot when wearing sweaters will be sorry to hear that the bulky, handknit sweaters, which first made the scene last year, are back again - and are more popular than ever.

Men will notice a slight difference in the shape of ties this year, according to Hakola. Ties remain narrow toward the knot, but are getting wider at the bottom. The change is not a radical one, Hakola said, but it may signal a return to the wide tie.

For men who don't like to wear a tie and who don't like the new turtleneck look, many men's stores are carrying string ties once popular in the wild west. Baringhaus said they are a popular alternative. Men will get a chance this year to try the fabric women have been raving about. Rayon is being used in more and more men's shirts for fall, according to Baringhaus. The rayon gives shirts a silkier feeling and a bit of a shine.

Men will also have to learn the lesson women learned last year. Men should read the labels carefully and, if looking for a shirt that is easier to care for, look for a mixture of rayon and polyester.

Rayon itself usually requires hand washing or even dry cleaning. By itself, rayon also tends to wrinkle and spot easily.

Accessories for men have become much more accepted in recent years. Belts are now more fashion-oriented, according to Baringhaus, with textured skins and a variety of Spectacles once ridiculed as being "nerdish" are now in style. Young men who don't even wear glasses are buying the round-rimmed spectacles to wear as a fashion statement.

While spring and summer witnessed a splash of color for men, fall and winter bring a return to gravs, blacks, browns and white. Baringhaus has seen a newer shade, which might be described as a brownishgreen, appearing in men's clothes.

"I hope some of the colors stick around for fall as accents to the more neutral shades we're seeing now," Baringhaus said.

When it comes to fashion for young adults, what's in and what's out can become as critical as a coronary bypass.

Not only do young people keep abreast of the current trends, they pick out their own clothes with remarkable confidence and keep designers hoping to invent new styles and looks with every new season.

This fall, experts in apparel are banking on bright colors, "skeggings," a knit skirt with leggings attached, darker denim and aviator-style flight jackets.

Jason Manning, 9, of Westland, chooses all his own clothes, according to his mother, Rita. Jason has a Top Star flight jacket, complete with fur collar, imitation leather and insignias.

"I like the patches," Jason

Jason and his brother Jamie, 6, recently modeled what's new in fall fashion for young men at Kids Mart, in the Westland Crossing shopping center, in Westland. Modeling the latest look in young ladies' fashion was Holly Fountain, 11, of Westland.

Jamie kept his cool in a Way Cool collection. The outfit included a black-check, cotton shirt, white, cotton jacket and black, cotton, twill pants. All items are sold separately.

Black is in this fall for boys, according to Alice Kinder, manager of the Westland Kids Mart.

Jason wore Kid Terrific adver 'ure sweats, featuring a polyester blend, turtcotte and sweat pants.

e seem to be the most popula items as far as boys' clothes are concerned," Kinder

Holly modeled a red and black U-Bet sweater, 100-

What in's - what's not

Fashion designers took a trip back in time to the 1940s when choosing the "in's" and "out's" of the fall wardrobe. What follows is a list of what the fashion-conscious person should add to his or her wardrobe - and what he or she should discard.

Definitely "in"

Definitely "out"

Punk-style togs

Electric colors

For the women:

Pretty and preppy Natural fiber fabrics Natural and muted colors Greens and browns Cardigans Fashion scarves Knee-length skirts Ankle-brushing long skirts Multi-purpose clothes Coordinated outfits Plaids

Argyle skirts or shirts

Socks to match argyle

Full-leg trousers

Football-style shoulder pads Mini skirts Ankle-brushing long skirts Masculine work clothes Uncoordinated costumes Blue jean skirt uniforms Skinny, skimpy pants Overdone hairdos Careless grooming

For the men:

Baggy pants Patterned socks French-cut shoes Round-rimmed spectacles Sweats Leather jackets Aviator jackets Gangster hats Polka dot ties Acid-washed denim Snakeskin belts String ties Lapel pins

Knit ties Plaids Double-vented sportcoats Three-piece pinstripe suits Yellow "power tie" Earth shoes Pink oxford shirts Polyester anything

For the boys:

Cardigan sweaters

Bright colors Decals, insignias Flight jackets Surfer t-shirts Skateboarding apparel Blue, black Army green Pleats Backpacks for school Darker denim

Stone-washed denim

For the girls:

Bright knit tops Plaid, pleated skirts Skeggings Varsity sweaters Buttons and bows

Stone-washed denim Cows Scotties Flats with no socks Darker denim percent acrylic, with a Rosecraft Kids necklace of large multi-colored buttons. The skirt, knee-length, matched the sweater. Holly also wore red, dance tights and black flats - with no socks.

"Buttons and bows are in for girls," Kinder said. "In the hair, on the shirt. Leggings are in. Cows are in. Denim is still in - any kind of denim. The aviator look is real big for boys, as well as denim and T-shirts.

"A lot of kids, especially older ones, pick out their own stuff," she continued. "They pretty much know what they want.'

Turtlenecks are still acceptable. Kinder said, if worn with the layered look, under sweaters and shirts. Skirt length for girls is just above the knee.

Fall colors in clothes include bright turquoise, purple and fuchsia for girls, Army green, blue and black for boys.

For the clothes fancier who fancies a dressier look, pleats are still in vogue as is a textured look in pants. Bright, patterned sweaters are also popular.

ANP staff writers Barbara Albert, Joan Mary Dyer and Jim Rink contributed to this report.

H & R Block to Offer Tax School In Belleville Area

Thousands of people are learning the skill of income tax preparation from H & R Block and are ebroing money as income tax proparers

H & R Block, the world's largest income tax preparation service, is offering a basic income tax ourse starting September 7th, 8th and 10th, with morning, afternoon, evening and Saturday classes available. Classes will be offered at many convenient area locations

During the 13 week course, students will study all phases of income tax preparation and receive actual experience in preparing individual returns. Experienced Block instructors will teach current laws, theory and application, as practiced in Block offices nationwide. There is a classroom discussion on each tax subject and practice problems at every level. Courses are programmed to teach students increasingly complex tax problems as study progresses. Students will find the course both interesting and challenging

Courses are ideally suited for people who want to increase their tax knowledge and learn how to save money on taxes or who are looking for a rewarding career. No prerequisites are required to enroll.

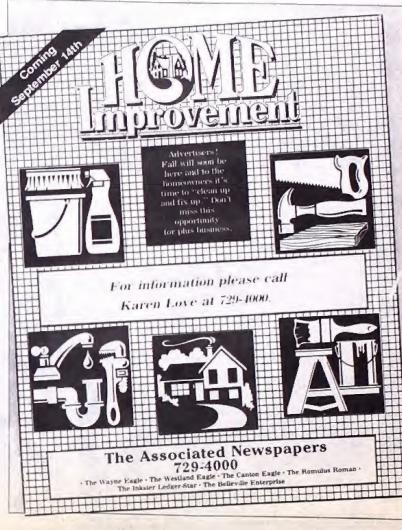

Qualified course graduates may be offered job interviews for positions with Block. Many accept employment with Block because of the flexible hours available. However, Block is under no obligation to offer employment, nor are graduates under any obligation to accept employment

One low course fee includes all textbooks, supplies and tax forms necessary for the completion of the course. Certificates and 7.5 continuing education units will be awarded upon successful completion of the course. Master, Visa, and Discover cards are accepted, or a time
